From Huffington Post to Beijing, across Twitter and beyond spreading across social media like the norovirus is 2013's first Appy Moment of the New Year created by VSM Enterprises. At .99, we have proven there is indeed an app for everything! How do you size up with the rest of the world?

Detroit, Michigan- January 26, 2013- VSM Enterprises announces a safe sex app with a funny spin. Disputing the old adage that "Real Men Use Rulers", today's modern man can now measure the length and girth of male genitalia with an iPhone or iPad and identify the best condom based solely on the facts!

Also included within the app, in the you just have to know department, is where those measurements rank in the world. The answer to your world ranking is just an app away. We know bragging rights are in order.

This app truly helps educate the male population on the proper condom sizes, and promotes discussion about safe sex. With this app, you will be able to very easily determine how you 'stack up' with the rest of the world and find your condom size through step by step instructions. Now everyone can find out the details and sizes of over 30 condoms, purchase condoms, access educational condom tips, and view a ton of fun facts about condoms!
